

"The Push" by Danna Wilberg
dannasjourney@sbcglobal.net

"Fever" struggles with anger and confusion after her drug addicted Mom ran off to Sacramento. Fever is now a conflicted teen with psychic powers. Can Grandma help?

"Ten Minute Ride" by Wayne D. Johnson wdoug95608@aol.com

Writing a syndicated travel column, Aaron thought he had seen it all. Sacramento? Just another City with a serial killer on the loose. Could this column be his last?

"Nightmare On K Street"

by Jessica Vazquez
trogdor2211@hotmail.com

Above ground, Sacramento's historic streets make it a hot spot for tourists like John. But deep in the tunnels beneath Old Sac breeds a night scene to be avoided, if you can.

"City of Trees" by Mark Perrigan
maperrigan@gmail.com

Our trees provide a loving, protective canopy we often take for granted. Aiden dreams of a special tree and an opportunity lost far away and long ago in Sacramento.

"Beatrice & The Bike Thief"

by Frank Casanova
frank-casanova@sbcglobal.net

Detectives come in all shapes and sizes. 12 year-old Beatrice solves mysteries. Steal her friend's bike? Now you are in trouble and the chase ensues – watch out for Beatrice!

"Cup O' Tea" by Isaiah Tichenor
isaiaht@frontiernet.net

Senior year can be painful. For Marissa, her poems offer a private satisfaction but her shyness keeps her friends at a distance. Can Thomas reach out in time?

"Master of Destiny" by Julie Ivanovich ivanovichj@gmail.com

Some days, just surviving requires the strength of a superhero. Has Ryan found a way to cope or has he lost his mind?

"Detective A" by Victor Nieto vicnieto21@yahoo.com

Have you ever felt that life was a mystery? Detective A discovers his life – one day at a time. Confused? Let the mystery begin as Detective A awakens to a day filled with new and unique challenges.

"Play Day" by Carrie Stroud
CarriesNY@hotmail.com

Skylab Youth Production Studios returns to PCS (2008's "Sweet Lemonade") with an updated version of "David & Goliath". Sophia steps up and demonstrates "empathy is a gift that can't be taught".

"641/2" by Chris Henry chris_henry@att.net

Tobias and Avery are old war-horses with stories to tell but the world sees only 2 scruffy, homeless guys. When a Mustang stumbles, Tobias steps up and a new chapter begins.

"Quick Shots" by Randall Rydell Russell
nikeno71@yahoo.com

Marcus has ambition and wants to be a great photographer but it takes a homeless stranger's help for him to "see" Sacramento.

"11 B Diaries" by Laura Tapia
sacmakeupgoddess@yahoo.com

Serving your country in any war bonds a soldier to his friends forever. With his only child now dying in Afghanistan, can Ed's buddies from Vietnam help him once again?